BULLION-BECK SUIT

What the Complaint of the Californians Alleges.

A CASE OF TOTAL DEPRIVITY

A Brute Too Lazy to Work Forces His Wife to Support Him in Shame.

In the case of Henry McEwan vs. J. J. Rogers et al. Judge Zane yesterday made an order requiring the defendants to show cause on August 1 why an injunction should not be issued.

The complaint in the big mining suit brought by the California stockholders of the Bullion-Beck against the directors of that company, was filed in the Third district court yesterday.

The complainants in the suit are A. Badlam, R. J. Davis, A. A. Dewing, and Isaac Trumbo, and the defendants are Moses Thatcher, John Beck, A. E. Hyde, W. B. Preston, Richard Taylor, and the Bullion, Beck and Champion Mining company. The attorneys for the plaintiffs are Sutherland & Judd, of this city, and Estes, Wilson & McCutchen, of San Francisco.

The complaint, which is sworn to by Isaac Trumbo, sets forth in detail that the company named is a corporation, duly organized under the laws of Utah territory, with a capital stock of 100,000 shares of the par value of $10 each.

That the plaintiffs are, and at the time of the grievances hereinafter mentioned were, several owners of stock in said defendant corporation, and they bring this suit in behalf of said corporation, on their own behalf and on behalf of all the stockholders thereof.

They allege (1) That the defendant company, for three years or more, has been the owner and in possession of a group of mining claims situated in Tropic mining district, Juab county, and lying next south of the legal and the Silver Gem.

That running northerly and southerly through said group of mining claims, including those above named and within the boundaries thereof, is a mineral bearing vein. That the said vein runs northerly and southerly in and with the said claim, suit belongs to said corporation and is owned and possessed by the company for its own benefit, with all its dips, spurs and angles. That the dip is very valuable, and rich in gold, silver and lead.

(2) That the defendants, Moses Thatcher, John Beck, A. E. Hyde, Richard Taylor and W. B. Preston, officers and directors, during the time hereinafter mentioned and (except said Taylor) up to the beginning of this suit, had conspired together for the purpose of defrauding the corporation of its property, and in doing so these plaintiffs, as stockholders thereof, in this:

That they had permitted, suffered and aided the said John Beck to take from these veins and mining claims a large amount of ore, gold, silver and lead, of the value of $250,000 or more, all of which is the property of the defendant company, and had permitted and aided him to use the defendant company's machinery for the purpose of extracting said ores and precious metals and hoisting the same out of the mine, and to dispose of such ore and precious metals for his sole use and benefit.

Plaintiffs are informed and believe, and upon such information allege, that the four defendants above named have conspired together to aid the said John Beck in fraudulently appropriating the same to his own use.

That on the day of 1891, soon after the plaintiffs had heard of the wrongs complained of, John W. Judd, one of the plaintiffs' attorneys, appeared before the board of directors of the defendant company at Salt Lake—Messrs. Thatcher, Beck, Hyde, Taylor, and Preston being present—and demanded of them that, as officers and directors of the company, they proceed to recover from the said Beck the value of the ore and metals appropriated by him, and, if necessary, to institute legal proceedings to that end and to place the money so recovered in the company's treasury for the benefit of plaintiffs and other stockholders.

Plaintiffs aver that they then and have ever since refused to neglect to take any action in the matter, but were still permitting and aiding said Beck to do the wrongs and injuries complained of.

Plaintiffs further allege that the officers of the defendant corporation have not only fraudulently aided and abetted said Beck in the appropriation of said ores and precious metals, but still decline to take any steps towards obtaining either the return of the ores, etc., to the defendant corporation, or the value thereof; and the same are still being appropriated by Beck. Whereby plaintiffs have already suffered great loss and injury and would continue to do so unless the threatened wrongs are redressed by this court.

For the second day of action plaintiffs allege that on or about—day of August, 1891, the five defendants before named, acting in the capacity of directors, at a meeting held in Salt Lake city, allowed, audited and directed to be paid a false, simulated or unfounded claim or demand in favor of said Beck, and against the defendant company, for the sum of $120,000, and the same was, in accordance with such order, actually paid to him out of the moneys of the defendant company they well knowing the claim to be false, and for the fraudulent purpose of enriching said Beck at the expense of the company and all its stockholders.

Wherefore, plaintiffs pray that an accounting be had between Beck, Thatcher, Hyde, Taylor and Preston and the defendant company; that judgment be entered against them for the full value of all the ores and precious metals so extracted; that during the pendency of this action the defendants be restrained from extracting any ores and precious metals from the said vein and mines for Beck's benefit, or otherwise for the use of the defendant corporation.

Cheap Accommodations to and at the World's Fair.

The Plans of the World's Fair Transit and Trust Company—Is my built a Hotel in Chicago.

A few days ago notice of the incorporation of a company known as the World's Fair Transit and Trust company was published in THE HERALD. The names of such men as George Q. Cannon, R. C. Chambers, T. G. Webber and T. W. Donnellan appearing on the list of officers and incorporators at once suggested that there must be a sound bottom to the enterprise. Accordingly a HERALD reporter set out to obtain further information.

The plan of operation is taken from a similar organization which existed in England at the time of the Paris and New Orleans expositions. Like companies are being formed in different parts of the United States, one being at Denver, Colorado.

The company has not thoroughly matured the scheme, but it is so far advanced as to announce that it will insure to any person first class transportation to Chicago, meals while on the way, hotel accommodations for six days at a $3 a day house, six admissions to the fair grounds and return passage with money for $10. The same accommodations would cost the individual traveling at his own expense, several hundred dollars. Furthermore, the company will now or at any time between now and the 1st of May, 1893, enter into an agreement with any one whereby such person can pay the sum named in installments to suit himself, and receive all the advantages enumerated. Should the person die before the time the money will be refunded to the legal representative of the deceased; or the person wish to be released from the contract at any time after paying $3 he can transfer his interest to some one else by endorsement and notification of the company.

The incorporators are men of public spirit and say that they consider the World's fair will be an educational force which the people of Utah and neighboring states need and they wish to place within the reach of all.

Hotel accommodations will be very difficult to procure at the present time, and the rates to the individual. This company will have previous arrangements made and even go as far as to build, if necessary, a hotel of its own for the accommodation of its members. Indeed, this suggestion is under serious consideration now.

The incorporators propose to give the public all the advantages in cut rates on the railroads. Fifty dollars is the present estimate for car fare. If less they may be able to give even better rates than $10.

They propose to have their headquarters in Salt Lake and to operate in Idaho, Oregon, Montana and Washington. Offices are soon to be fitted out in this city. Printed matter will be circulated explaining the workings of the enterprise in detail.

UNPLEASANTNESS AVOIDED.

Several months ago, Mr. Henry Plummer, of Clements, Cal. who is subject to cramps, was taken with a severe attack. He has been accustomed to get relief by dosing with morphine, but the disagreeable effect that followed would make him miserable for hours after the cramp had been relieved. I persuaded him to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He was much pleased with it, and its effect was almost instantaneous, and no disagreeable after effects accompanied its use. He writes: "Manager, Farmers' Trust Union, Clements, Cal. For sale by Z. C. M. I. drug dept."
